MADNESS

Madness is a band that retains a strong sense of who and what it is. Many of the same influences are still present in their sound – ska, reggae, Motown, rock'n'roll, rockabilly, classic pop, and the pin-sharp vernacular of their beloved London streets.

It may be refined and updated, but its essence remains clear and true. This is what they do best. Most colourful of all is Madness' ability to write songs that sparkle with the stuff of British life; that find poetry in everyday reality – not the faux bright lights of celebrity; songs that may not shy away from death or darkness, but retain the right to employ wit and warmth. They are songs that have left their mark on British pop culture; their spirit endures in the music of Blur, the Streets, Kaiser Chiefs, Arctic Monkeys, Lily Allen, Sway and Plan B.

JAMES BLUNT

The five-time Grammy nominated and multiple BRIT award winning artist James Blunt is no stranger to festival spotlight and will the wow crowds at Henley Festival.

After numerous successes since his debut 'Back to Bedlam' in 2004, the record that brought us You're Beautiful and Goodbye My Lover, James returned in October 2019 with 'Once Upon A Mind'. The record has a warmth that permeates the entirety and a real sense of personality. Well known for his wit and charm, James has sold over 23 million albums and is a definite must-see live.

SOPHIE ELLIS-BEXTOR

Sophie Ellis-Bextor shot to fame as a vocalist on Spiller's huge number one single Groovejet, followed by Take Me Home and her worldwide smash hit, Murder on the Dancefloor.

Her solo debut album, Read My Lips was released in 2001 and reached number two in the UK Albums Chart and was certified double platinum by the BPI.

Her subsequent album releases include Shoot from the Hip (2003), Trip the Light Fantastic (2007) and Make a Scene (2011).

In 2014, in a departure from her previous dance pop albums, Sophie embarked on her debut singer/songwriter album Wanderlust with Ed Harcourt as co-writer and Producer. A critical and commercial success, it was certified Gold in the UK and spent 3 weeks in the UK top 10 album chart, spawning the hit single Young Blood.

Sophie followed this release and collaboration up with 2016's Familia which saw her return to the dance floor with the radio hit Come With Us.

In January of 2019 with Ed Harcourt as Producer and Amy Langley (of Dirty Pretty Strings) arranging, Sophie released orchestrated versions of all her hits and past single releases.

The album is available through Cooking Vinyl.

FINE DINING

Experience the very best in fine dining at Henley Festival. We're delighted to welcome back Angela Hartnett to the Riverside and the Canteen restaurants with her unique menus each evening. Caper & Berry will be returning to the Terrace restaurant with their modern British cooking and our riverside pop-up, Garden Bistro by Jimmy Garcia, will be serving delicious food all through each evening in its beautiful location beside the river.

VISUAL ART

One of Henley Festival's signature specialties, the 2020 visual arts programme sees stunning contemporary art, sculpture and installation right across the site. Remarkable installations from Limbic Cinema, Zac Greening and Tommy Gurr. Gallery shows including 'WILD' a group show from Adam Binder (realistic bronzes), Stephen Page (stylised bronzes), Tara Winona (painting and prints) and Eben Rautenbach (pyrography), and Nigerian street artist Wumzum. Mixed shows presented by Cristo Design, Fred Gordon, Gallery Attache, Hanoi Art House, The Punchbowl Gallery, Sable Star Art, Studio 35 and the Young Silversmiths from Bishopsland.

PAINS FIREWORKS

Pains Fireworks are the largest and most historic fireworks company in the UK, delivering over 500 spectacular displays every year all over the world. They are proud of the care, creativity and attention to detail that goes into every display. Using their unmatched variety of amazing products, combined with their passion, experience and technical expertise, they'll deliver that moment that you'll never forget.

Pain's association with Henley goes back over 100 years to when Henry J. Pain fired displays for the regatta along the same stretch of water that lines the festival grounds. We're extremely excited to welcome them back to the Festival to fill the skies across Henley in 2020 with layers of colour, pace and sound that will deliver a World class performance.

ROVING TROUPE OF ENTERTAINERS

Supported by Medlock

The Festival welcomes a massively eclectic and always eye-catching troupe of performers who can crop up anywhere on site throughout the evening, and whose eccentricity and unpredictability is the key: Les Baigneurs - motorised deckchair borne banjo players; Phileas Fogg's Day 79 - a pair of earthbound mobile hot air balloons; the almost life-size Elephants on Parade; and the bicycle powered 'Those Magnificent Men'; and that's just a taste...
